

SEVERE WEATHER SPOTTER SEMINAR - 2005

The Detroit/Pontiac National Weather Service, along with Southeast Michigan's emergency managers and law enforcement, will offer free training seminars for those who wish to participate in this year's volunteer severe weather spotter program. This year's program will offer basic and advanced techniques to become an effective volunteer spotter through an interactive presentation that will last approximately 2 1/2 hours.

We have combined the Basic and Advanced classes into one class. Below is the current schedule for Livingston County as of January 16, 2005. Training can be taken at any location. However, advanced registration may be required so we encourage you to please contact the Livingston County Emergency Manager, Richard Winsett at 546.4620 if you wish to receive this valuable training.

We look forward to seeing you soon!
